

Between the Lines

The Inside Story

THE SCRIBBLER - PHIL DiDOMENICO'S WORDS TO LIVE BY.

First Edition May 2014

Understanding People...

If you can't enjoy the contradictions you'll miss out on all the fun. Don't insist that everything makes sense. If you attempt to understand human beings, if you expect them to always behave rationally, then you will end up going through life crabby, irritated and annoyed. But if instead you can enjoy their odd, confounding humanness, then you might just enjoy how strange and interesting we are. Remember that you too are one of us and you expect everyone to understand you. Please don't be short tempered, annoyed or quick with people.

YOU ARE WHAT PEOPLE PERCEIVE YOU TO BE

They may think you are being rude and will react defensively then it starts, Instead... BE NICE, UNDERSTANDING, PATIENT & KIND... and guess what will happen.

"If you persist in reliving the past events that reinforce negative feeling, those thoughts will control you."

First Commandment: Be nice or go home!